

Travel

These Resorts Are Perfect for People Who Want the Laziest Vacation Ever

BY NATALIE B. COMPTON

20 hours ago

COURTESY OF MASSERIA LE MANDORELE

Want to spend a week sitting on your pampered ass? Yeah, so do we.

Vacations full of sightseeing and bar crawling and city hopping are great, but sometimes you want to check the hell out of reality and laze around a cabana for a week. Maybe instead of hustling through the Louvre, you'd rather spend your time off around pool decks and massage tables. Throw out the ambitious agenda, embrace the inner lazy, and give one of these resorts a try. We swear none of them are Sandals.

Ojai Valley Inn & Spa

There's something restorative about just being in Ojai, California. Locals say the magic is in the way the Ojai Valley's surrounding mountains are arranged, or maybe it's just that the place feels like a secret oasis. Whatever gives Ojai its je ne sais quoi, the town, and The Ojai Valley Inn & Spa is one of the best places to unwind on the West Coast. Guests have access to relaxation-friendly hot tubs and heated swimming pools, a highly-rated golf course, art classes (express yourself!), and wilderness hikes. Before you check out, check in with the Inn's resident spiritual counselor for a Somadome session, a treatment that combines LED color therapy, binaural beat meditation, and crystalline tiles to promote mind and body alignment.

Hedonism II

Get your freak on in Jamaica at Hedonism II, the only clothing-optional option on this list. The all-inclusive resort draws kinky travelers from around the world to its sex-positive property in Negril. “Be as mild or as wild as you like!” the website boasts, meaning no one is going to force you to boink anyone if you show up to this “adult playground.” As its name suggests, Hedonism II is designed with your pleasure in mind from the soft lit playroom to the beachside Jacuzzis. When you’re not swinging with other couples, check out the spa options for deep tissue massages and hot stone therapy, or book completely non-sexual activities like scuba diving and windsurfing lessons.